

RHODES HOUSE

A space for the 21st Century

Since its opening in 1929, Rhodes House has been an Oxford landmark, a historic Grade II* listed country house in the heart of the city, surrounded by beautiful gardens.

Today, it is home to the city's newest and most technologically advanced conference and convening centre with multiple meeting spaces, a large dining hall and 35 en-suite bedrooms, creating a unique place to bring people together all year round.

The perfect place for your event.

A place to meet and enjoy

For nearly 100 years, Rhodes House has been a place for people to meet, to think, to enjoy. It is a place to bring people together for discussions, celebrations, delicious food and good company.

Those traditions of Oxford hospitality are alive today at Rhodes House with generous spaces for discussions and celebrations, hosted by a talented and experienced team. Traditions that have supported generations of Scholars in Oxford, combined with world class technology for today.

CONFERCING SUITE: The newest conferencing facilities in Oxford with world-class connectivity.

ACCOMMODATION: Bedrooms freshly refurbished in the elegant Arts and Crafts style as envisaged by the original architects of Rhodes House.

DINING: From delicious conference catering to fine dining and banquets by our experienced and talented kitchen and waiting team.

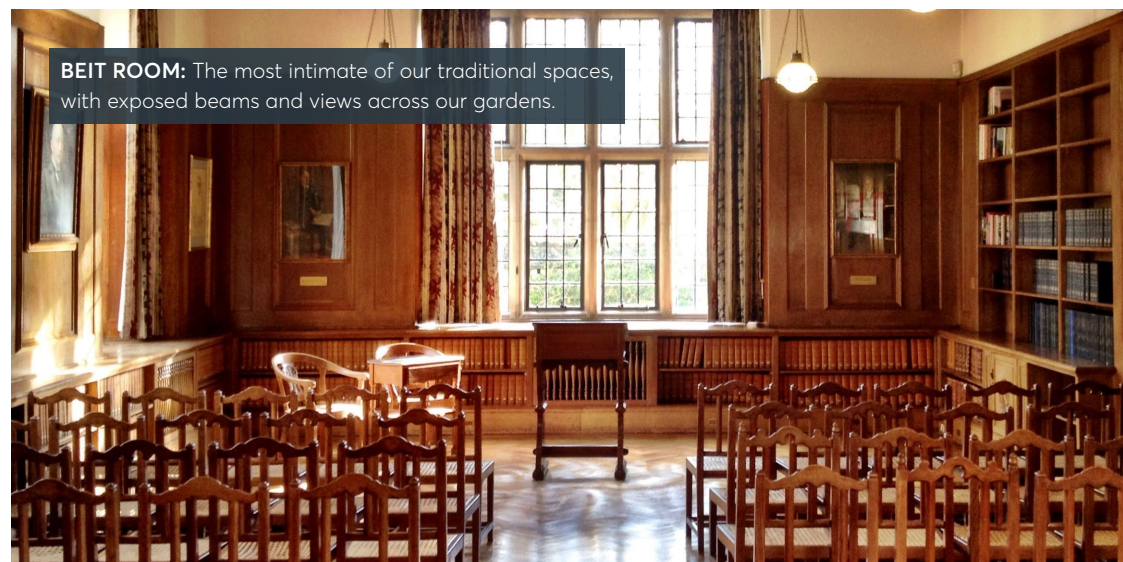

MCCALL MACBAIN HALL: The traditional place for Scholars to meet – an Arts and Crafts masterpiece with spectacular artwork.

RECEPTION ROOM: A beautiful wood-panelled meeting and reception space, opening out onto our elegant gardens and terraces.

BEIT ROOM: The most intimate of our traditional spaces, with exposed beams and views across our gardens.

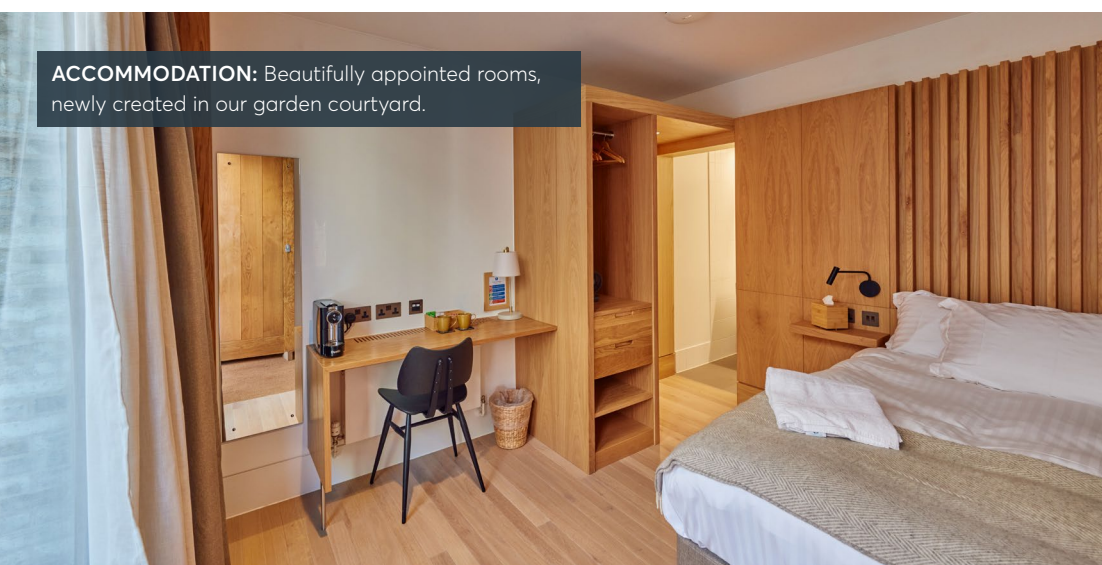

GARDEN PAVILION: A glass-clad jewel of a room, designed by acclaimed architects Stanton Williams with vaulted ceilings and views across our grounds.

GARDENS: Lush planting by our multi-award winning head gardener Neil Wigfield provides the backdrop to our generous terraces and lawns. A peaceful oasis beyond the bustle of the city.

ACCOMMODATION: Beautifully appointed rooms, newly created in our garden courtyard.

WORLD CLASS TECHNOLOGY: State-of-the-art AV systems created by our talented specialist team to share your discussions with the world.
